GENERAL GRADE LEVEL GUIDES

(TL:FSNH-4; 8-3-93)

The General Grade Level Guides presented on the following pages have been prepared as guidance in determining the grade levels of positions for which no classification standards exist. The Guides should be used in classifying such positions in conjunction with standards for other positions considered to have characteristics in common with the position to be classified. For example, in classifying an administrative assistance or administrative specialist position, it would be logical to examine standards for positions within the administrative area, e.g., budget and fiscal, procurement, supply, etc. In classifying professional positions, it would be logical to examine standards for professional positions. The Guides define the level of work appropriate to each grade, indicate the language, education, and experience desired or required of incumbents of positions at that grade, and indicate the occupations for which standards have been prepared at each grade.

FSN-12

This is the highest of three levels of professional or specialist positions and the highest grade in the Interagency Foreign Service National Position Classification Plan. Relatively few overseas establishments will warrant an FSN-12 position; the establishment of more than one FSN-12 position within the same broad professional, technical, or program area, e.g., political, economic, cultural, information, etc., is seldom warranted. Positions at this level are those of highly qualified and recognized experts. Under the direction of an American official, they supervise or personally perform difficult and complex work involving the full scope of a professional, technical or program area, including AID, USIS, FCS, FAS and other associated agency program areas, in one of the most important country programs of its kind in the world. Incumbents of such positions apply a highly technical body of knowledge of applicable laws and agency regulations and instructions. These positions often call for originality of ideas and creative thinking in dealing with problems or matters for which there is little precedent, and usually require that the employee be able to interrelate the pertinent subject matter with a broader spectrum, as would be the case in considering the impact of important political developments on domestic and international economic developments. Where the emphasis is on reporting covering a broad spectrum of complex subject matter and requiring the exercise of independent judgment in projecting future developments or trends. Substantial reliance is placed upon the employee's professional acumen and judgment, and his/her advice is sought on important and at times on extremely sensitive matters; in functional programs that involve comprehensive program planning, the employee participates actively in the planning process. Positions at this level are largely independent of technical supervision; guidance from American supervisors is primarily with regard to policy, priorities, results to be achieved, basic approaches to be followed, and in the case of positions involving reporting, the nature and basic content of reports. Employees at this level develop and maintain an extensive range of important contacts with senior level business and government officials and with community leaders for the purpose of obtaining or verifying information which is not otherwise available. Incumbents of these positions normally possess the equivalent of an A.B. or B.S. collegiate degree in a field of study closely related to their assigned responsibilities; in many instances, postgraduate education is needed. A minimum of six to eight years of progressively responsible experience in the area of their assignment is needed. Level 4 English ability (fluent) is usually required. Supervision over others is not normally a significant factor in justifying the classification of a position at the FSN-12 level. Classification Standards depicting the FSN-12 level have been prepared for: Agricultural Research Specialist; Agricultural Specialist; Chief Librarian (LOC); Commercial Specialist; Cultural Affairs Specialist; Economic Specialist; Engineer; Information Specialist; Library Director; Medical Officer; Political Specialist; Program Specialist; Scientific Affairs Specialist; Supervisory Budget Specialist; Visa Specialist, etc
